loader module, or by clicking on the MANIFEST.MF file in a zip file and extracting its contents into a java project folder. Can anyone suggest a simple way to get a jar file as an input to maven plugin for build purpose? Thanks! A: Sure, the maven-jar-plugin supports creating self-contained jars, but it doesn't create them, it only prepares them. To create self-contained jars, you need to combine Maven's self-contained and build-helper-maven-plugin. org.codehaus.mojo build-helper-maven-plugin attach-sources attach-artifact ... sources 82157476af
